The Chinese Communists Want Early Jap Ireaty

San Francisco, June 26 .--The Chinese Communists called on Sunday for speed in writing a Japanese peace treaty.

They reiterated their demand that their contemplated "Democratic Coalition Government" participate in drafting the treaty. Tre Chinese Reds supported the Russian demand that preparations be made by the Pacific Big Four-with Communist China substituting for Nationalist China. These views were expressed in an editorial of the Tientsin Progressive daily and broadcast by the Peiping CAPSUIMUN radio, It was heard by the Associated Press in San Francisco.

ACTION CRITICISED The editorial attacked the U.S. nction in halting Japanese reparations payments as "unredsonable and twisting of facts" with the intent of "turning Japan into an American arsenal in the East."

The radio also assailed the American view that the Japanmission. It asserted the Commission was "completely under the thumb of America."

Reject Offer With Disgust

London, June 26.—The Acton, London and Manchester branches of the National Union of Railwaymen today rejected the Railway Executive's offer of wage increases to meet the union demand of 10 shillings a week. The Manchester meeting rejected "with disgust" the offer, which was supposed to remain secret, but which was stated today, "on good nuthority," to be a three shillings per week increase for lower paid workers and nothing for those earning over £4.18.0, a week.

The Manchester men declared for a resumption of the "go slow" working. Delegates representing 1.500 union branches will meet in London on Tuesday to discuss the wages' situation.—Reuter.

SENATOR TAFT FORESEES LOT OF PRESSURE

Washington, June 26. — Republican Senator Robert Taft today predicted that the administration would exert a "lot of pressure" for full diplomatic recognition of the impending Communist regime in China.

Senator Taft made his statement as he and other Senators urging more American aid for the Chinese Nationalists awaited the State Department's decision on whether the United States would observe the Nationalist blockade of Communist-held ports.

Republican Senator William Knowland told the United Press that if the State Department, in collaboration with the British, chose to ignore the blockade, it would mean American policy has undergone a complete shift and that the United States is now backing the Communist Government."

The State Department is discussing its future. course in China with other nations affected by the passing of Chiang Kai-shek's Nationalist regime in North China. It was not hinted whether the Communists would be recognised, but some time soonperhaps this week—the Department may issue a White Paper on the entire Chinese situation. The document reportedly will charge that corruption within the Chiang government led to the Nationalist downfall in North China and withholding of further American aid to the Nationalists.

example of distorted propaganda—so abaurd as to be laughable to those Chinese who know Hongkong, or are today living here, but cunningly convincing to those Chinese who, have never had the opportunity of seeing the Colony and enjoying the benefits of its magnanimous administration. It is a thousand pities that the Chinese Communists, who by their personal behaviour in cities such as Changhal, Pelping, Nanking and Tientsin, gain the confidence and friendship of Fir foreigners, should permit their propaganda machinery to come between such desirable relationships. Likewise the inspired attack upon the good faith of the only British-owned newspaper in Shanghai, The North China Daily News, has brought sharp doubts in the minds of, Britons and other foreigners about the actual intentions of the Communists in their dealings with third power nationals and their interests. The freedom of the press is a genuine concern of the Western democracies-freedom, as distinct from licence, and while it is now apparent that the North China Daily News technically violated the somewhat rigid regulations imposed by the Chinese Communists on newspaper reporting, this did not merit discerned the unfortunate prospect of future anti-British press campaigns which would be bound to have detrimental effects on relationships with the Communist administration. Even graver implications could be seen in the closing down, under duress, of the liberalthinking American-owned Evening Post and Mercury, for in this case Labour was allowed to assert itself in an arrogant manner with no attempt made by the Authorities or Union leaders to intervene and mediate on rational and compromising lines. The status of the editor as being the person to decide what should and what should not appear in the paper was successfully challenged by the Chinese technicians and his authority allowed to be flaunted. It is a regrettable affair, not only because it has meant the closing down of one of the best newspapers in the Far East, but because it suggests the Chinese Communists in Shanghai are prepared to lend. at least tacit approval to overt acts of intimidation on the part of Labour, and are not, at least in the case of foreign businesses, willing to demand ordinary discipline from workers. The rights of the workers must, of course, always be fully protected, but this can be done without them being permitted to go to extremes, especially where the dispute involves principles. The Communists are noted for their party discipline, and they will find it advisable to see that discipline is also applied to Labour, whether it be organised through trade unions, for is independent. The important part which the workers play in the smooth and efficient running of a city such as Shanghai is well recognised, but if these men are allowed to dictate to employers, whether Chinese or foreign, they will rapidly replace order and good administration with chaos and

IRON AGE PITS

The construction of new airfields, in particular, yielded much valuable data on our early ancestors. At Manston, Kent, for instance, a settlement of the Iron. Age was uncorthed. There was no indication of it on the ground or on the available air photographs, but when the ground was being prepared for the laying of a hard runway, many pits were found to have been dug in the chalk and filled with soft, dark earth. When excavated, they yielded a great quantity of pottery, dating from the last three centuries before the Roman conquest of AD 43. and traces of the actual houses where the people who used the

TEST DECLARATION ON FIRST DAY "NOT IN THE RULES"

London, June 25.- England's first-day declaration in the Test Match against New Zealand at Lord's yesterday was "not in the rules," according to a statement issued at Lord's today. But because the New Zealand captain, W. A. Hadlee, and the umpires accepted the declaration, the match is likely to continue tomorrow without in-。 一、工厂生来等的特殊的特殊的基本是是主义。 terruption.

The following statement was issued by Major.

Aird, Assistant Secretary of Lord's Cricket Ground "The question has ari en as to the correctness or otherwise of the declaration on the first day of the Second Test Match now in progress. "Law XV does not provide for a declaration on the first day of a three-day match, and special instructions to umpires in 1949 state that the experimental rule allowing a declaration in other first class matches after 300 runs have been scored does not apply to Test matches.

Either the New Zealand captain or the umpires would, therefore, have been justified in refusing to accept the declaration at the time it was

"Objection to a breach of the playing conditions should, however, be made at the time.

"Since this was not done it would not appear that a dispute exists, and the match will be contimued tomorrow in accordance with Law. 46."-Reuter.

Cricket Tours In The Next

Four Years

London, June 25.-The MCC have informed the Indian Cricket Board of Control that the possibility of a tour to India, including a visit to Pakistan and Ceylon, will be explored for the winter of 1952, instead of 1952/3 as previously pro-

In addition, the Indian tour of England has been brought forward from 1953 to 1952. The MCC also announced that the next Australian cricket tour by England will take place in 1953 and not 1952 as arranged on the customary four-year interval, This will not affect the next visit from Australia, due in 1950; and it is not intended to create a precedent for future years.

The change is the outcome of the MCC's desire to avoid the strain imposed on English cricketers resulting from tours overseas in more than two successive winters, and at the same time to provide the maximum number of such tours in the next seven years.

Haiti: Land of Contrasts By TEMPLE MANNING

NEW American opera with · Haiti as its theme and locale has served to focus attention, tourist and otherwise, on that country which, together with the Dominican Republic, make up a land mass once known as Hispaniola. Haiti is what we would recommend for any traveller in search of a place that is different, chock full of personality.

It is a land of contrasts, and this is apparent as soon as one hits Port-nu-Prince, capital and main port. There are showy buildings fine parks bright with fountains and statues, there is the beautiful cathedral and the gleaming white National Palace. And then, in the central park of the city, there are whole streets of even business build-1. Which is heavier, milk or ings and houses partly supported on rickety poles.

AMERICA'S "CONSUMER CONTROL" OVER WORLD

Colombo, June 26.—The Ceylon Government said today that the United States had a consumer control over the world rubber market, and that the industry in Ceylon was facing a crisis from which it could not, in the long run, be saved either by Government subsidy or legislation.

The statement said that it was inevitable that a large acreage of uneconomic rubber plantations would be turned over to other crops or be re-afforested.

The Government said the future of the industry was unpredictable, but that experts suggested that it would become either a smallholders' industry. in which owners provided their own labour to cut costs, or a Washington, June 20 .- Falling highly intergrated imjustry,

Barter Possibilities

Manila, June 20 .- The Philippine Government was reliably reported today to be conducting exhaustive studies of the possibility of barter trade agreements with nations belonging to the so-called soft currency bloc, similar to that recently concluded between Great Britain and Argentina.

The purpose of the new move, the report said, is to enable the Philippines to find outlets other the American market which, it is said, has not been able to absorb all the agricultural products of this country; except at prices rumous to the Filipino producers.

The studies, it is reported, were prompted by numerous recent inquiries received by the Department of Commerce and industry from Philippine Legations and commercial estalishments abroad, although it was understood that, the matter had also been under consideration by the Department of Foreign Affairs.—Reuter.,
